BLOODSHED OVER POLITICAL FIGHT

Martial Law in Rock Island Following Bitter Riots.

ONE DEAD; ANOTHER DYING

Failure of Mayor to Make Reply to Charges Precipitates Trouble Which Results in Police Shooting Into Mob. The State Troops Are Called Out.

United Press Telegram.
ROCK ISLAND, Ill., Mar. 27.—With one man dead, another dying, nine in the hospital desperately wounded and four others hurt as a result of a battle between the police and a mob inflamed over the local political developments of the last few weeks, civil law in this city has been practically suspended today.

Members of the Illinois National Guard are patrolling the streets, all saloons are closed and no one is allowed to loiter about the streets. Four companies of the militia are on the ground under arms and four other companies are at their armories in nearby towns waiting an order to be rushed here at the first sign of a further outbreak.

The trouble which led up to last night's bloodshed grew out of the bitter political fight that has been raging for a month or more between Mayor Harry N. Schriver, Rock Island's first mayor under the Commission form of government, the men opposed to him and the political machine he had built up about his office.

Inflamed by the speeches of Harry McClellin, candidate for the Republican nomination for State Attorney, Edward Gardner, editor of a labor paper and several other speakers in Market Square last night, the crowd gathered by these orators went to the police station and demanded a speech from Mayor Schriver, answering the charges made against his administration.

When Schriver failed to appear, some members of the mob began throwing stones at the station house. This outbreak was the signal for determined measures against the mob. James Brinn, chief of police, ordered the police to clear the streets. Schriver and Brinn appeared on the street and when the police line was being swept back, the Mayor gave orders to fire. The mob charged the thoroughfare from the side to the other and the volley from the revolvers of the police brought 15 from the ranks to the ground.

Later the mob wrecked John Lewney's newspaper office and attempted to break into the Commission form of government store to set arms and ammunition.

An attempt to assassinate the Mayor was made today. He was standing in the police station when a bullet, fired through a high powered rifle crunched through the window and buried itself in the wall above the Mayor's shoulder. The police could find no trace of the assassin. The man who was killed is C. Kellogg, aged 40, an engineer of Duquesne. He was shot through the chest and died of fright according to the physicians.

APPEAL IS MADE FOR ADDITIONAL TROOPS.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 27.—At 6:50 this morning Adj. Gen. Dickson received a message from Sheriff O. L. Brainer of Rock Island asking for two more companies of the National Guard.

The Sheriff reports that undesirable are looting in from Duquesne, Chicago and other points. Dickson is now in conference with Governor Deneen.

MINE WORKERS STAND FIRM; OPERATORS ALSO DETERMINED

Cleveland Conference Unable to Agree on Strike Settlement.

CLEVELAND, O., March 27.—Inability to agree yesterday again marked the attempts of the bituminous coal miners and operators to fix a two-year wage and working agreement to take effect April 1. The conference, held in Cleveland, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois.

When the conference adjourned tonight each side stood where it was a week ago, the miners declaring that unless they secured 10 per cent increase in pay after working for two hours they would not work after next Sunday midnight, when their present scale expires, and the operators asserting they would not grant the demands.

"We told the men it was useless to keep on repeating the demands, for we do not intend to grant them," said H. M. Taylor, representing the Illinois operators. "It would be better for us to shut them down to grant them."

"We are simply drifting to a suspension of business, if not a strike," said Thomas L. Lewis, former President of the United Mine Workers of America. "No progress has been made."

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Welke of Grand avenue are receiving the congratulations of their many friends over the arrival of a pretty baby girl this morning. It was the second visit of the stock to the Welke home.

Johnson Schools Close.
The Johnson schools closed today after a successful seven month term. Special programs were carried out in the three rooms.

DIXMONT GUARD HELD FOR DEATH OF JOHN SILLER

Alleged He Pushed Former Connellsville Man, Causing Fatal Injury.

Bradley Johnson, a guard at Dixmont hospital for the insane, was arrested yesterday on information made by Chief of County Detectives Harry Muth, on a charge of aggravated assault and battery on John Siller, who died yesterday morning. It was reported in Connellsville, where Mr. Siller formerly resided, that his death was the result of a fall. The case was reported to the coroner of Allegheny county. In the report it was said that Mr. Siller was walking along one of the walks when Johnson pushed him. Siller fell and struck his head on the pavement, suffering a fractured skull. Chief Muth yesterday said an investigation by several of his men found that Siller attacked Johnson and the guard in defending himself, pushed him, causing him to fall. Johnson was committed to jail in default of bail to await a hearing.

Mr. Siller had been an inmate of Dixmont for some time past as the result of injuries with which he met a number of years ago while employed in the Baltimore and Ohio shops in Connellsville. The body arrived in Connellsville last night and was removed to the parlors of Funeral Director J. E. Sims. Today the remains were taken to the home of Mrs. Katherine Siller, a sister of the deceased, No. 138 East Peach street. Services from the Trinity Lutheran church will officiate. Interment in Hill Grove cemetery.

REAL ESTATE DEALS CLOSED YESTERDAY

K. K. Kramer Purchases the Arlington Apartments From L. F. Ruth.

CONSIDERATION NOT STATED

George Fuchrer Concludes Negotiations For Purchase of Mott Property on Apple Street and Leds Contract For a Brick Business Block.

Two real estate deals involving the transfer of properties worth nearly $100,000 were completed yesterday. K. K. Kramer has purchased the Arlington apartment building on South Fifth street. He purchased the building from L. F. Ruth who erected the building about nine years ago. The consideration is not stated.

Mr. Kramer bought the building for himself as an investment. Work has already been started on renovating the building. Besides Barker's drug store and Steyer's grocery store there are four apartments on the second and third stories.

The second deal which was closed yesterday was that for the property owned by Mrs. Nancy Holt, on Apple street. In this deal was also not given but it was stated this morning that some real estate was exchanged. George Fuchrer, the purchaser, will erect a three story brick business block on the property. A. C. Harwick of Perryopolis is the contractor. Work will be started at once.

CONTRACTOR O'CONNOR STARTS WEST SIDE JOB

Main Street Hill Paying Work Began This Morning—Sloped Paved.

Contractor O'Connor and McDaniel this morning started paving the West Side Hill. This job was awarded to them some time ago but owing to inclement weather it was impossible to start. The West Side hill has been in bad condition all winter and traffic there has been suspended at times. When in good condition the hill will be one of the most important outlets from the city. Automobiles in particular will find the completion of the paving with delight. It is expected that good time will be made from now on.

The steam shovel on the grading job on South Arch street finished work yesterday. A gang of men is rapidly winding up that job. The gas and water companies still have some work to do. Their pipes have been uncovered during the process of grading.

MAY APPEAL RATE DECISION.

Pittsburgh Lines to Meet in New York on Thursday.

NEW YORK, Mar. 27.—There will be a meeting here on Thursday next of the Pittsburgh lines which handle coal to the Lakes to consider the recent decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission on Pittsburgh and West Virginia coal shipments.

It is considered probable owing to the importance of this decision in all parts of the country an appeal will be made by the parties interested.

South Connellsville Council Meets.
South Connellsville Town Council will meet tomorrow night. While there is only one question that is sure to be brought up several matters relating to public utilities may be discussed. It is thought the light question will be settled.

JOHN G. OGLE IS NOT A CANDIDATE

Somerset Man Leaves Field Clear for Thompson and Cooper

WHO FAVOR PRESIDENT TAFT

Withdrawal Was Not Unexpected by Those in Close Touch With the Political Situation in the Third District—Roosevelt Boom on Wane.

Attorney John G. Ogle of Somerset county has withdrawn from the field as a candidate for National Delegate in this district, leaving the field clear for Joseph V. Thompson and Allan F. Cooper, the accredited Taft representatives. The withdrawal was not unexpected by those in close touch with the political situation in this district, it having been reasonably certain that there would be no contest among those generally understood to favor the renomination of the President.

The withdrawal of Ogle from the field is probably a death blow at the Roosevelt boom in the Twenty-third Congressional district, composed of Fayette, Somerset and Greene counties. The Roosevelt sentiment in this county has never attained serious proportions, with the possible exception of Somerset county, and among the Frosty Sons of Thunder the case of the Colonel is not giving those interested a great deal of encouragement.

Friends of Roosevelt are getting little comfort out of national campaign developments. It was had enough for them to see the Colonel soundly whipped in North Dakota by La Follette, but since Indiana has gone strongly for Taft and yesterday New York City has overwhelmingly voted in favor of the President's renomination, there is only gloom among the followers of the Third Term boom.

The choice of Mr. Thompson and former Congressman Allen F. Cooper as the National Delegates from this district is practically a foregone conclusion.

GARBAGE COMPANY ELECTS BOARD OF DIRECTORS

First Meeting of New Organization Held—James Francis Is Superintendent.

The Connellsville Garbage and Fertilizer Company took definite form at a meeting of the stockholders last night in the Second National Bank building. The following Board of Directors was elected: J. H. Gwynn, George Hatzel, John Hyatt, James Francis and James Hatzel. The directors will meet some time this week and organize.

By-laws were adopted. The work on the furnace has been almost finished. Active operations will begin April 1. Policeman James Francis, who will resign from the force Saturday, will be placed in charge of the plant in Connellsville township.

Referring to the ordinance drawn up here, Health Officer Hooper and Councilman Baumgartner of McKeesport said that it was a fine piece of workmanship. They will return to Connellsville to inspect the plant after it gets in working order.

STREET COMMITTEE BUYS 50 CENT HOSE

Commissioner Stauffer Will Now Have Proper Equipment—Delivery Next Week.

The street committee at its meeting last night decided to buy 500 feet of the 50-cent hose for the use of the street department. The purchase was ordered by Council at its last meeting. Chairman S. F. Hay declared in favor of 50 cent hose but after seeing the samples submitted decided that the cheaper hose would be just as good.

The committee discussed the needs of street paving. They all agreed that the extreme necessity of paving but stated that they could do nothing. At least an effort will be made in the near future to have Baldwin avenue and Arch street paved. These two streets are probably more in need of paving than any others.

DULL BUYS CASINO.

Price of $210 for Stock and Fixtures of Pool Room.

At a constable's sale yesterday afternoon, Grant Dull bought the stock and fixtures of the Casino pool room, managed by Dempsey Frezza. Constable Charles Wilson conducted the sale.

The consideration was $210. Mr. Dull bought the fixtures as an investment. O. H. Shoemaker of Pittsburgh owns the building. It is not known what he intends doing with it.

Going to Austria.
An ambitious linotype operator and careless proof reader old enough to grow better considered to send Dr. and Mrs. W. J. Bailey to the antipodes. Instead of making their journey to Australia, as was stated, the Baileys will go to Vienna, Austria, leaving the latter part of April.

Infant Child Dies.
An infant child of Mr. and Mrs. John Oler died this morning at the Oler residence at Coalbrook. The body will be shipped to Normalville for interment by Funeral Director C. C. Mitchell.

Main late tonight or Thursday is the moon-weather forecast.

Temperature Record.
1912 1911
Maximum 57 55
Minimum 29 28
Mean 43 41

Despite reports from the country that the ground froze last night the lowest temperature recorded in Connellsville for the 24-hour period ending at noon today was 29.

D. H. Flick, river statistician, yesterday received from Harrisburg a new box, board weight and chain to replace those washed away during the flood. The river is still falling. It was 5.10 last night and 5.65 this morning.

36 BODIES TAKEN FROM THE JED MINE

Number Killed in Explosion Ranges Between 83 and 86.

CHIEF LAING TO INVESTIGATE

Twenty Additional Bodies Brought to Surface This Morning—35 Have Not Yet Been Recovered—Abandonment Hope of Finding Any Yet Alive.

United Press Telegram.
WELCH, W. Va., March 27.—Twenty additional bodies were recovered from the Jed mine at 12 o'clock today. This makes a total of 36 bodies which have been brought to the surface from the mine two miles from here which was wrecked yesterday by an explosion.

Fifty-five bodies had been located early today and 35 more are yet to be recovered. It is believed these bodies will be brought up before tonight. The total dead numbers between 83 and 86. As the bodies are recovered they are placed in plain coffins in the power house of the Jed Coal & Coke Company.

Chief Laing of the West Virginia Department of Mines arrived at the mine early today and took charge of the rescue work. He also started a rigid investigation to determine the cause of the explosion. H. McCallough, coroner of McDowell county, is also investigating the cause of the disaster.

After toiling all night the rescue party gave up hope of finding any more miners alive. During the long hours of the night the women of the village hung around the entrance to the shaft hopeful to the last that their loved ones would be restored to them. Many held sleeping babies to their bosoms. Others cuddled fatherless children. Men and women old and young vainly tried to comfort them.

BUILDING COMMITTEE WILL MEET THURSDAY

Final Settlement of Location of New Fire House Will Probably Be Made.

Chairman S. L. Brant of the Building Committee yesterday stated that a meeting of the committee would be held Thursday night. If suitable to the members of the committee, at that time a selection of the site of the new fire house will be taken up and if possible settled for all time. Chairman Brant said that the members of the committee are anxious to reach the site of the new fire house as soon as possible. The site of the new fire house is located on the corner of McKeesport and Arch streets. The site is owned by the Connellsville Construction Company and will be sold to the city.

There are three propositions up to the committee. One is the remodeling of the old Lutheran church. The others are to build two sites are in view, the one on the borough property on Arch street, for which the excavation has already been dug. The other site is the Dunn-Aaron property immediately across from the Lutheran church.

Complaint to Health Board.
Complaint as to the conditions on Fairview avenue will, it is said, be made to the Board of Health soon. The state of affairs, the residents claim, is beyond endurance.

Arbuckle Dies Suddenly.
NEW YORK, March 27.—John Arbuckle, the noted sugar and coffee magnate and one of the best known philanthropists in the United States died suddenly at his home today.

BELIEVED THE WORK WILL START SOON

Franchise for B. & O. at Somerset Removes the Last Obstacle

FOR DOUBLE TRACKING S. & C.

Plans of Railroad Will Necessitate a Number of Changes and Before Long Coal Fields Will Have Improved Transportation Facilities.

Special to The Courier.

SOMERSET, March 26.—The granting of a franchise to the B. & O. railroad company to occupy part of Pleasant street in the construction of a second track for the Somerset & Cambria branch is considered the last step in double-tracking the branch between Rockwood and Johnstown. The second track would relieve the present congestion of the branch in handling the immense coal tonnage from the Jenner-Quemahoning region.

The vigorous winter retarded the progress of work on the yards, which will be rushed to completion now that the weather has broken. The construction of the yards, however, was not abandoned throughout the winter and in spite of the intense cold during the most five or six months there is a noticeable advancement. Kanner's dam has been filled almost to the required grade with the rock and ground removed from the cut. The bank along Roberts creek just south of the cut, which was washed down and is occupied with tracks for the "dinky" trains hauling ground and ballast for the yard tracks.

When completed the yards will extend from the Roberts station to the Patriot street crossing near the present station at Somerset, a distance of about two miles. The yards will consist of from five to nine tracks. The turntable about a mile south of Somerset is nearly completed and is being constructed in a sufficient strength to turn the largest locomotives on the Baltimore & Ohio system.

The new Somerset depot will be built on Main street of Patriot street, according to the present plans. A site for the building has not yet been announced, but it is believed it will occupy the Calvin M. Arkeny lot.

The widened cut will eliminate the long curve between Somerset and Roberts creek and will be of sufficient width to accommodate probably six or eight tracks, the southern terminals of the yards being just south of the cut. A concrete arch wide enough for two tracks has been completed across Roberts creek just south of the cut, which will accommodate the double tracked S. & C. The yards tracks throughout their length of nearly two miles will be in almost straight lines.

The B. & O. improvements necessitated the relocation of the public road crossing the S. & C. near the farm of Attorney J. Calvin Bowry, and this road has been replaced with a scientifically-graded slider highway. The road is one of the worst in Somerset township and was almost impassable in the spring of the year.

COUNCIL OFFERS REWARD FOR CAPTURE OF FIEND

Latrobe Citizens Are Aroused Over Cruel Treatment of Five-Year-Old Girl.

LATROBE, Mar. 27.—At a special meeting of the Latrobe Borough Council last night a resolution was unanimously adopted setting aside $500 as a reward for the arrest and conviction of the fiend who attacked Rose, the five-year-old daughter of Harry Gould, and cruelly maltreated her.

District Attorney W. T. Dom last night communicated with the County Coroner and requested that the county offer a similar reward.

Frank Slaughter, who said he found the child in a stable, is held by the police pending investigation.

The child last night was in a critical condition, with little hope for recovery. The parents of the child are almost frantic, and feeling is running so high here that the brute, if captured, will be placed under a strong guard to prevent violence at the hands of angered citizens.

BOROUGH CLERK BIXLER WILL SEND BILL FOR HOSE

West Penn Car Out Fire Apparatus and Now the City Wants Damages.

Anent the hose cutting affair injured in by a West Penn trolley car and his borough's street gang, Borough Clerk A. O. Bixler said yesterday that he had seen Claim Agent T. B. Donnelly of the West Penn and that the latter had instructed him to turn the bill in. The clerk said he would pay the same time this week.

Claim Agent Donnelly maintains that the street gang did not flag the motorman. The episode occurred several weeks ago in front of Councilman John F. Bietz's house on the West Side.

Train Riders Hold Stage.
Train riders held the stage at police court this morning. Special Officer Thomas C. Phelan gathered in four young offenders. Their ages ranged from 17 to 22. Hailing from Baltimore, they were bound for Buffalo. They were discharged by the Burgess. Two drunks were given 48 hours.

DEATH OF SON CAUSES FATAL GRIEF FOR MOTHER

Mrs. Thomas Kenney of Lisenring Expired Last Night in the Mercy Hospital.

Grief over the death of her son, James Kenney, resulted in the death of Mrs. Thomas Kenney, one of the most widely known residents of Lisenring, Pa., last night at the Mercy hospital, where she had been a patient for the past week. James Kenney died four weeks ago last Friday in the Cottage State hospital from injuries received from an accident with which he met in the mines at Hazleton, Pa. Up until the untimely death of her son, Mrs. Kenney had enjoyed excellent health. Following the death and funeral of her son the grief-stricken mother sank into an unconscious condition. Last Thursday she was removed to the Mercy hospital, where sister Rose McClain of Greensburg was at her bedside when death came.

The body was brought to Connellsville this morning and removed to the parlors of Funeral Director J. L. Stader and after being prepared for burial was taken to the Kenney residence at Lisenring. Requiem high mass will be celebrated Friday morning at 9 o'clock at St. Vincent DePaul's church at Lisenring No. 1. Interment in St. Vincent DePaul's cemetery.

Mrs. Mary McClain. She was 41 years old and for the past 16 years had resided at Lisenring. In addition to her husband the following children survive: John, Thomas, Rosa, Elizabeth, Christina, Anastasia and Mary, all at home. She is also survived by two brothers, John McClain of Ligonier; George McClain at Fort Palmer; Mrs. Maria Duffy of Mammoth and Miss Rose McClain of Greensburg.

CROWLEY SUIT IS DRAGGING SLOWLY

Attorneys Argue Points of Law During Morning Court Session.

FORMER COUNCILMAN PLAINTIFF

Suits Damages From One Borough For Broken Leg—Squire Bixler Star Witness This Morning—Suit Against the West Penn Is Taken Up.

Special to The Courier.

UNIONTOWN, March 27.—The suit of Matthew Crowley against the Borough of Connellsville, dragged through the morning session of court this morning with most of the time being consumed by arguments on the part of Attorney John Duggan, Jr., for the plaintiff, Squire A. O. Bixler, borough clerk, who on the stand the greater part of the time. In court Squire Bixler is rapidly acquiring a reputation as a professional witness. Every time the borough is defendant in a suit, Squire Bixler goes on the stand.

Crowley claims damages for a broken leg sustained by falling over the stump of a telephone pole along the West Side hill. He was a member of Council at the time and the defense expects that this fact will prevent recovery of damages.

The suit of John Green, colored, against the West Penn, in behalf of himself and his small son, Charles, was taken up. Green wants $20,000 damages for injuries sustained by the child when it picked up a live wire last May.

The suit of Joe Ballis against the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal & Coke Company ended when a compulsory non-suit was allowed by the court.

Engineers of B. & O. Work at Meyersdale.

Surveyors Open Office Up the Line. May Complete Plans For Tunnel.

MEYERSDALE, March 27.—A corps of B. & O. surveyors arrived here yesterday and are sitting up the second floor of the Miller & Collins block as offices. Just what they have been sent here for is not known, but many venture a guess that they are here to complete the plans and prepare the work for the low-grade freight spur and classification yards that the engineers were working on all last fall and summer.

Should this work be carried forward it will necessitate the construction of the low tunnel through the Allegheny range to start in at a point near Glade City, less than two miles east of this place.

Engineers to Vote.
Result of Stock Ballot Will Be Announced April 16.

NEW YORK, Mar. 27.—Fifty representatives of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, headed by Warren S. Stone, voted here yesterday to submit to a so-called strike vote the question of increase and standardization of wages as refused by the Eastern railroads. It will require several days to distribute the ballots among the engineers, and April 10 has been set as the date for making public in this city the result.

F. A. Burgess, assistant grand chief of Cleveland, indicated that the offices of the Erdman act would be invoked in case a vote should be in favor of striking.

EDWARD F. TREFZ IS HERE TO SPEAK

Reaches Connellsville in Time to Start Campaign for Members.

CANVASS IS NOW UNDER WAY

F. W. Wright's Team Secured the First Member, a Pittsburg Man Who Has Faith in the Town—Trefz Speaks at Public Meeting at Library Tonight.

THE MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN.

Team No.	Captain	New Members
1.	E. W. Horner	8
2.	J. L. Evans	17
3.	F. R. Graham	6
4.	J. A. Wright	4
5.	John Duggan	4
6.	A. M. Haines	12
7.	A. A. Clarke	5
		Total for today 59

Having sufficiently recovered from his attack of tonsillitis to speak at the public mass meeting at Carnegie Free Library at 8 o'clock tonight, Edward F. Trefz of Chicago, the specialist on town development work, arrived in Connellsville this morning. His address tonight will be on the subject of "The Higher Duties of Good Citizenship," and will be under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce. The meeting is a part of the movement for a rejuvenation and extension of the Chamber of Commerce which is being affected through the membership campaign which began this morning. At the same time the movement is for a greater Connellsville, as the advancement of the city's interests is the sole aim of the organization.

Many invitations to attend the mass meeting were sent out by the Chamber of Commerce last night, but they were only in the nature of reminders, and the Chamber invites every resident of Connellsville to the city's future. The invitations state admission is free, there will be no collections and that the ladies are cordially welcomed.

Much good-natured joshing of the capacity of each other's teams to bring in memberships, was indulged in by the teams of workers as they started out this morning on the first day of the whirlwind membership campaign. About thirty prominent Connellsville business men gathered at the headquarters before 10 o'clock, and secured their card lists of prospective members.

Almost immediately the contest to see which team will have the honor of bringing in the largest number of memberships during the campaign, was begun. No sooner had the teams secured their cards than they began planning how to secure advantages over the other.

In the midst of this enthusiastic jollification F. W. Wright, of the Wright-McNair Company, announced that he had secured the first membership application of the campaign. It was not a Connellsville man who signed the first application for the re-established Chamber, but a man who has been living in the city for some time. F. H. Holmes, of No. 221 Bessemer building, Pittsburgh, had called upon Mr. Wright early this morning, and was signed up at once.

"His example should certainly be at least equalled by every Connellsville business man," said Mr. Wright. The teams presented a pleasing sight as they started from headquarters, wearing the red and white pennants bearing the name of their respective teams. They are carrying the message of a greater Connellsville to the citizens of the city.

The same enthusiastic feeling also prevailed at the meeting for lunch and to report the progress of the day at the Y. M. C. A. After the teams had completed their two hours campaigning.

Many clever little speeches were made by the captains as they reported. The number of memberships secured is published in above. Mr. Trefz made a stirring address to the team workers after the reports were read. He had just returned from a tour of the city as a guest of officials of the Chamber.

Every team report showed that the campaigners were being very favorably received in nearly all cases. Captain E. W. Horner reported that 21 calls, 12 men were out. Of the 10 seen, 8 signed applications, and another one will later. F. W. Wright, reporting for Captain Evans, who was out of the city, made the unexpected report of 17 applications while his team only saw 13 persons. His team demonstrated its salesmanship by securing more than one application from a number of persons. F. R. Graham said he never knew before what a popular man F. Bufano is. He said that while his team brought in 6 applications everybody else said that they must see Bufano before they would sign. J. E. Atrecht, reporting for J. D. Porter, said that they found one man who had the Connellsville spirit so much that he was willing to leave it to the team as to the number he should sign for. H. J. Bosket, reporting for John Duggan, said that his team had secured 7, but that they had six more good prospects. Captain A. M. Haines reported 12 applications and said that his team had found only one "dead one." Captain A. A. Clarke said that he had met with a fine reception everywhere, and had 5 applications.

Five Are Killed.
Five were killed by the explosion of a boiler at Salisbury, Md., yesterday.

SOCIETY.

Annual Election Officers.

The following officers for the ensuing year were elected at a special meeting of the Conneltsville High School Alumni held last evening at the High School: President, T. G. Edwards; First Vice President, Mrs. Charles C. Mitchell; Second Vice President, Dr. W. N. Goldsmith; Third Vice President, E. T. Norton; Recording Secretary, Miss Edna Zimmerman; Corresponding Secretary, Miss Nellie Brinkman; Treasurer, Fred Frisbee. The committee elected were as follows: Executive Committee, Lloyd Shaw, C. W. Hay and J. Kirk Renner; Membership Committee, Miss Alice Butler, Mrs. Robert Orin and V. L. Decker; Athletic Committee, Robert Morton; Honor Chapter and Miss Edna Zimmerman. Preliminary arrangements were made for a dance to be held soon after Easter. A series of dances were discussed but no definite action was taken on the matter. The meeting was well attended and was of an enthusiastic nature. An effort will be made to increase the membership.

Epworth League Meets.

The Epworth League of the Methodist Episcopal church met last evening at the home of Homer Davis on North Pittsburg street. Members of the League of the Vanderhill, Methodist Episcopal church were guests. During the business meeting it was decided to hold a Stock Cook-Trial sometime in April. A social hour and refreshments followed the business meeting.

Missionary Circle Will Meet.

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Missionary Circle of the First Baptist church will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. L. V. Marshall on Johnston avenue.

Children's Party.

The Ladies' Bible Class of the First Baptist church held a ten-cent party yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. A. Lyon on East Main street. A very enjoyable afternoon was spent.

Family Reunion.

Mrs. Lucy A. Waddell, aged 92 years, and sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Rhodes, aged 87 years, shared honors at a family reunion given yesterday by Mrs. Chorpennish, a daughter of Mrs. Waddell. The affair was held at the home of Mrs. Chorpennish and a very enjoyable day was spent by all present. Games and music were plentiful. At noon a well appointed dinner was served. A number of out of town guests were present.

SPRINGLIKE WEATHER CALLS HIGH SCHOOL BOYS.

Principal Coughlin Finds Pupils Missing After Chase Book Picture Is Taken.

The combination of having their pictures taken and the call of the Spring proved too much for several High School boys yesterday afternoon and the out may bar their attendance at school for some time to come. Yesterday when photographer Suder finished taking the picture of the Junior and Senior classes for the class book, the two classes talked back to their room. Not all, however, for several boys did the gum shoot and now are facing the dire wrath of Principal Coughlin.

Kall His New Sign.

Electrician A. J. Butterfield this morning placed in position the new sign which was recently taken from Kall's bank in Uniontown to the one here. The sign will be one of the largest in town.

MISS FLORA GLASSBURN BRIDE OF JOHN M. PYLE

Pretty Home Wedding is Solemnized at Home of Mrs. J. B. Stonecker.

A pretty wedding was that of Miss Flora Glassburn and John M. Pyle of Scottsdale, which was solemnized last evening at 5 o'clock at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. J. B. Stonecker on East Fairview avenue in the presence of a number of relatives and a few intimate friends of the bride and bridegroom. As the bride party entered the reception hall, where the ceremony was performed, Lohengrin's wedding march was played by Miss Sarah McDuffett, and during the ceremony "Hearts and Flowers" was softly rendered. The impressive ring ceremony was performed by Rev. J. W. Richards, Presiding Elder of the Evangelical church of the Johnstown district. Proceeding the bridal party were the two ribbon bearers, Mildred and Dorothy Glassburn, sisters of the bride, marking the bridal path with white satin ribbons. The bride wore a handsome white messaline gown draped with chiffon and trimmed with white silk tulle and silver trimmings. She carried a large bouquet of white bridal roses. The maid of honor, Miss Grace James, wore a white lingerie gown trimmed with lace and carried white roses. The two ribbon bearers wore white frocks. Elmer Fox of Mt. Pleasant was best man. The ceremony was followed by a handsomely appointed luncheon. A color scheme of pink and white was charmingly carried out in the decorations and luncheon. The chandeliers were festooned with pink silk ribbons and entwined with asparagus. The lights in all the rooms were capped with pink shades. Bouquets of roses were artistically arranged in the parlors. The bride and groom were seated in the dining room and were attractively decorated. From the chandeliers were streamers of wide pink messaline satin ribbon terminating in large bows at the four corners of the table. Tall cut glass vases of roses and carnations formed the floral decorations. The bride's cake and ice cream were heart shaped. The other guests were served from smaller tables arranged in the parlor and reception hall. Displays in a room on the second floor were the many wedding gifts of the young couple. Cut glass, hand-painted china, utensils and silverware were included. After a wedding trip to the Scotts and Midland, the bride and groom after May 1st at Orchard avenue, Scottsdale.

The bride is a daughter of Joseph L. Glassburn of Woodville and since the death of her mother, over a year ago, she has made her home with Mrs. J. B. Stonecker. She is well and favorably known in Conneltsville and Scottsdale and vicinity. The bridegroom is a well known contractor of Scottsdale and is son of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Pyle of Scottsdale. The out of town guests were Elmer Fox of Mt. Pleasant; Mr. and Mrs. George Glassburn and daughter, Dorothy, of Pittsburgh; Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Glassburn and daughter, Mildred, of Johnstown; Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Snyder and children, Helen and Lillian, of Youngwood; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Pyle of Monaca, and Mrs. Jacob Carson of Berlin; Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Glassburn and daughter, Maude and Wilma, and John Robinson of Scottsdale, and Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Trimble of Uniontown. On account of the death of the bridegroom's grandmother, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Pyle, parents of the bride, were unable to attend the wedding.

SEGE TONKOVITCH HUNTS AUSTRIAN-INTERPRETER

Pretty Girl Wins a Telegram Translated and Finally Does It Herself.

Left to keep house while her father went to Youngstown, O., to hunt a job, Sage Tonkovitch, a 14 year old Australian girl, secured the down town business district this morning in an effort to have somebody read a telegram that had been sent by her father. Nobody in the foreign exchanges could read the Austrian telegram and finally with the aid of many amateur interpreters, Sage deciphered the message.

The father was employed on a construction gang at the Western Maryland and when the work was finished left for Youngstown to find a new job. The girl received the telegram and Junior House, a West Side man, took the girl in tow in an effort to have it interpreted. The message was to the effect that the father had found work in Youngstown and that the girl was to come there.

A Financial Anchor.

As important as an anchor for a craft at sea. Some people just drift through life. They do not have an anchor to hold them in a safe harbor. This is always an unsatisfactory way of living. One of the anchors of life is an active savings account with a strong, safe financial institution. Open an account with this bank and provide for yourself an anchor to hold you. Employment For Many.

W. A. H. Walker of Pittsburgh, are appointing many women and young folks to supply their neighbors with their choice of over 500 Walker Foods, Soups and Toilet Articles. The remuneration is over 100% payable in cash. This employment is much more agreeable than work in a store or office and the pay is actual time spent. Full information and catalogue No. 12 will be sent to anyone on request.

Up to Miners Now.

LONDON, March 27.—Responsibility for the continued coal strike was shifted to the mine federation last afternoon when the conference of operators representing every big mine in the country agreed to the terms of the minimum wage bill now before the House of Lords. The miners' union has already authorized a referendum on the subject.

Benefits Paid Out.

"BOHEMIAN GIRL" PLEASES BIG AUDIENCE AT SOISSON

But the "Ballet of the Hours" Was Marred by Unseasonably Noises From Gallery.

The first really satisfactory grand opera production in recent years was "The Bohemian Girl," presented at the Soisson theatre last evening. The company was large, the stage settings elaborate, the costumes brilliant and the scenery outstanding. It somewhat out of the ordinary. Arab tumblers are not generally mentioned in the same breath with grand opera, but "The Bohemian Girl" lost nothing through their presence on the program.

There was but one unpleasant feature of the evening—the conduct of the gallery gods. Shrieking, whistling, cat calls and now and then remarks that spoiled, in a sense, the measure of enjoyment for those who appreciated the really clever acting, were the ruin rather than the exception. To cap the climax, the actions of the gallery gods during the "Ballet of the Hours" in the final act, were disgusting. The dance was above reproach and splendidly executed. The costumes and electric effects combined to make it one of the most striking examples of terpsichorean art at Conneltsville has ever seen. It was lost on the gallery, however, which at times became almost indecent.

There were some splendid voices in the company, added to which was intelligent unfolding of the story. The beautiful duets and melodies lost nothing in their presentation by the principals.

WILSON WANTS BETTER DATES FOR CONNELLSVILLE

Coker Manager Leaves Tomorrow to Consult With President

Travis.

An effort to have several of Conneltsville's dates changed Manager W. C. Wilson will leave for Pittsburgh tomorrow. He will be gone several days. In that time he will make a trip to East Liverpool to see President Collins of Richwood, last year with the Coker for the opera, chairs for the grandstand may be closed up. Two bidders have submitted propositions.

Three contracts were received this morning. They are from Jerry Collins of Richwood, last year with Oakkosh, Wis.; T. W. Press of Jersey City, a first baseman and Joseph Priddy, Indian outfielder from Akron, N. Y.

DR. LEONHARDT'S DISCOVERY.

Hem-Roid Will Interest Every Person Who Has Piles.

The public is indebted to Dr. J. S. GOLD DUST will sterilize your kitchen things and make them wholesome and sanitary Gold Dust does more than clean—it sterilizes and leaves your kitchen things sanitarly safe. The ordinary soap-washed utensil is not fit to eat from, because soap does not cleanse as thoroughly as it should—does not kill germs of decay which are bound to lurk in oft-used utensils.

Gold Dust does most of the cleaning without your assistance, and does it, too, in a quicker and more thorough manner than will soap or other cleansers.

Gold Dust makes pot and pan spick and span.

Gold Dust is sold in 5c size and large packages. The large package means greater economy.

NOT A SECRET

Kathryn Dunne's Story.

It is said that in Europe when a woman finds a remedy that does her good she keeps it a secret. For she does not want any other woman to be able to rival her charms.

American women are different.

When they find a good remedy, they want other women to get the benefit too, they tell their friends.

Miss Kathryn Dunne of N. Y. City is one of these. She says, "When I was in a weakened condition last spring I took Vinol with the greatest benefit and recommend it highly. Vinol is a blood purifier and a blood tonic. It is a delicious and iron preparation without oil and restores untold thousands of pale, nervous, broken-down people to health each year. We give you back your money if Vinol does not help you. Vinol is sold in Conneltsville, Conneltsville, Vinol is sold in West Conneltsville by I. H. Karmening, Druggist."

The following children survive: Rev.

W. H. Gladden of Hecla, Pa., a former pastor of the Conneltsville Methodist Protestant church. A. D. Gladden, Frank Gladden, Mrs. G. L. Goodwin, Mrs. Jesse Pester, Miss Jacob Zellers and Miss Margaret Gladden. Rev. T. M. Gladden of Dunbar is a grandson.

BIG DOCTORS BILL

Man With Sore Feet Spends $700.00 on Them—a True Story.

Vouched for by Levensgood & Stickle, druggists of Leipsdorf, Pa. Here is one of the greatest testimonials I ever heard.

George Cramblis from Atlantic No. 2, a coal plant near here bought two packages of EZO, and in about three or four weeks he came in and told me that he wanted to have it advertised, and said I am willing to pay all charges because I want the people to know how good it is. He told me that for seven years he hadn't stood on his feet, he spent $700.00 for doctor bills, and he only used one package of EZO and can run and jump like a boy. He was all smiles about EZO.

A. A. Clarke sells EZO a refined ointment for sore aching weary feet for 25c a jar.

Durner of Nicholson No. 2, Mrs. Robert Stratton of White House, Mrs. Omar Vance, Smithfield, Mrs. Anna Cooley, Smithfield, Mr. and Mrs. John Rohrer, Nicholson No. 2, Mr. and Mrs. William Johnson of Baxter's Ridge, William Tibbs, a son, came from Milwaukee, Wis., where he is located as assistant district attorney of his county, to honor his parents with his presence, made a touching speech in which he emphasized the obligations he was under to his parents for his home influences and training. The venerable couple who have passed the three score and ten years of an honored life in this community were the recipients of some useful tokens of remembrance of the occasion. It is to be regretted that there was a misunderstanding as to the date of this function with the members of the G. A. R. Post here to which Mr. Tibbs belongs, consequently there was only one member of the Post present, whereas if it had been clearly understood the Post would have turned out in a body, as Mr. Tibbs is one of their honored and respected members.

An elaborate dinner such as the host and hostess are noted for getting up was served. There was an abundance of everything required to supply the wants of the larger man and the 60th anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Tibbs will long remain a pleasant memory in the minds of those that were there.

Meyersdale.

MEYERSDALE, March 27.—W. V. Stiver of the Keystone hotel, who spent several days last week with his brother, W. V. Stiver, at Bedford, returned home last evening.

William Dahl, who for some time has been engaged in the huckling business at Bedford, has moved into the Young property on Market Square, which he purchased some time ago. He intends to embark in the huckling business at this place and will erect a new building for the purpose.

James E. Leckleny of Confluence, was calling upon friends and relatives at this place yesterday.

Miss Sue Granger left on train No. 14 yesterday afternoon to spend several days with relatives and friends at Rockwood and Somerset.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Knepper, of Johnstown, are here to visit for several days with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. Klingman, of 230 Main street.

Miss Fred Manning, who spent two weeks at the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Dole, No. 7 Cherry street, taking treatment from a local physician, returned to her home at Randolph last evening, greatly improved in health.

Owing to the very unfavorable weather, very little maple sugar and syrup is being manufactured, and from all appearances the season will be a short and unproductive one.

"Y" DELAYED.

West Penn Crossing Held Up by Water Company.

Work on the "Y" and crossover at Seventh street and Graham avenue has been held up on account of the necessity of moving a water plug from the street about 15 feet. The water company is doing the work and this morning to hurry things along the West Penn put several men on the job.

The water, situated in the canyon, is thought will be finished the last of this week.

WELCOME WORDS TO WOMEN

Women who suffer with disorders peculiar to their sex should write to Dr. Pierce and receive free the advice of a physician of over 40 years' experience—a skilled and successful specialist in the diseases of women. Every letter of this sort has the most careful consideration and is regarded as strictly confidential. Many sensitively modest women write fully to Dr. Pierce what they would shrink from telling to their local physician. The local physician is pretty sure to say that he cannot do anything without "an examination." Dr. Pierce holds that these delicate examinations are generally needless, and that no woman, except in rare cases, should submit to them.

Dr. Pierce's treatment will cure you right in the privacy of your own home. His "Fertile Period" contains hundreds of thousands, some of them the worst of cases.

It is the only medicine of its kind that is the product of a regularly graduated physician. The only one good enough that its makers dare to print its every ingredient on its outside wrapper. There's no secrecy. It will bear examination. No alcohol and no habit-forming drugs are found in it. Some unscrupulous medicine dealers may offer you a substitute. Don't take it. Don't trifle with your health. Write to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. W. Pierce, President, Buffalo, N. Y., taking the advice received and be well.

Dunbar.

DUNBAR, March 27.—The funeral of the late John Hansen who died on Thursday at Fairmont, W. Va., where trainings were brought here for interment, was held on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home of his sister, Miss Jennie Hansen, on Speers Hill. Services were conducted by Rev. T. Miller Gadden, pastor of the Methodist Protestant church, assisted by Rev. D. E. Minard. The young man who had been in the United States Army during the Spanish-American war was buried with all military honors due a soldier brave. Interment was made in Mt. Auburn cemetery.

Notice is hereby given to the taxpayers of Dunbar borough that after April 1, warrants will be issued on all whose taxes remain unpaid. This notice is for one and all.

Anty Drudge Makes a Donation.

He—"I venture to ask, madam, if you would endeavor to spare me something for the Home for Broken Down Washerwomen?"

Anty Drudge—"Certainly. I'll donate a box of Fels-Naptha soap. Tell them to use it according to directions, and they will still be able to do washing, because the Fels-Naptha way banishes all the back breaking and hard rubbing of wash day; and cuts washday work in half."

Why do so many women who do their own work grow old before their time?

The weekly washing, they will tell you, is responsible for their breaking down. And they tell the absolute truth if they wash in the old-fashioned way.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, MAR. 27, 1912.

The Tariff Board.
President Taft has sent a special message to Congress pleading for a continuance of the Tariff Board, which the Democratic House is inclined to kill off by refusing to make any appropriation for its expenses.

Not only should Congress provide for the expenses of the Tariff Board, to the end that it may finish its investigation of the Tariff schedules and furnish facts upon which to properly adjust any schedule that proves to be inequitable, but it should also by legislative enactment clothe the Tariff Board with the powers of a Government commission, to the end that its inquiries may be unhampered by unwilling witnesses.

The Tariff Board was supported by the Democrats of the House when they were in a minority. The exigencies of politics have caused them to reverse their attitude now that they happen to be in a majority, but their proposed action of persistence will return to plague them in the future. The people generally are tired of having the Tariff made the football of politics. For years they have waited and hoped for the time when the question would be withdrawn from politics and become one of purely national economics. The Tariff Board provided the first practical means of accomplishing this desideratum.

The Tariff Board was opposed by many of the Republican Tariff experts in Congress, but almost without exception they have since admitted its usefulness. Its analyses of those schedules it has had an opportunity of examining are said by them experts to be the most complete ever made, and its conclusions to be unbiased and judicial.

This is the sort of a body Congress and the country need. Tariff revision in accordance with its recommendations will not convulse the business world, disturb industry, interrupt prosperity, bring distress upon the people.

Roosevelt Reverses.
Indications multiply that the Roosevelt boom which began when he was hatched out by the seven self-seeking Governors, not to mention the several professional politicians who have been out of jobs for some years past and who want to be magnified into new life and power through the Gyster Bay process.

The Presidential preference primary in New York, Roosevelt's own State, resulted in a sweeping victory for Taft, who carried nearly every contested district and who will have, it is estimated, 83 out of 90 delegates. New York has repudiated Roosevelt. The Indiana primaries were closer, but Taft won decisively.

These results seem to have driven the Roosevelt forces to desperation. In New York they charge that the primary was dishonest and threaten to hold an "independent" primary. We presume this is a primary at which nobody but Roosevelt supporters could qualify for voting. In Indiana, Roosevelt leaders called a rump convention and elected a contesting delegation-at-large.

Upon the whole, the Colonel's friends take their reverses with poor grace. They ought to take pattern from the Colonel. He is on record as saying that he is no better and that he will abide by the will of the majority.

The Gallery Gods.
The gallery god is nearest heaven in the theatre, but only in a playful sense. He is young, but not wholly innocent. He is cheek full of mischief, too often with devilish streaks in it. He is full of animal spirits and full of noise which he delights in shaking with the stage and the audience, often to their annoyance and disgust.

Patrons of the theatre who pay liberally to see and hear first-class attractions are entitled to the privilege of doing so and it is the duty of theatre managers to maintain order in the gallery as well as in other parts of the house.

It must be admitted that the gallery gods are difficult to manage at times, but the task is not impossible. A vigilant guard and a few summary ejections from time to time will serve to keep the juvenile exhibitions within reasonable limits.

The Connellsville gallery gods are just now sudy in need of regulation.

It is proposed to make use of moving pictures in the public schools of Connellsville as an educational adjunct. It is easy to perceive how the moving pictures might interest the pupils, but difficult to understand how they would be instructive. However, a progressive public is willing to be convinced by an inexpensive experiment.

Somerset has had its first hanging in ten years. In the meantime, there have been many killings.

The West Virginia mine which "let go" with such disastrous results yesterday was reported to be one of the Steel Corporation's operations, but this was a mistake of the press service. The mine is not operated by and has no connection with the United States Steel Corporation.

Town Builder Trefft promises to tell us all about it tonight.

The rumor that Connellsville's Chief of Police had resigned caused considerable excitement and awakened some dormant ambitions. Some die, but few resign.

The iron and steel trade is better. The railroads just couldn't without their orders any longer.

A Chicago jury has after ten years of litigation decided that the Beef Barons are not criminals. The character of the defendants were in lingering doubt for a long time.

As The Defense Views The Case

The Democratic appropriation bill promises to end in a big row. It's the first Pork Bill the Democrats have opened in many years. Perhaps the cynicism of the stirring contingent will have to be excused.

Connellsville is on the map, and has been there for some time, but we must keep it there and keep it growing. We must keep pace with the growth of Fayette county and Western Pennsylvania, and a few steps in advance should be our constant aim.

The railroads are considering the propriety of appealing the coal rate case. An appeal may delay but it will not defeat tardy justice to the Pittsburgh district.

MOVING DAY

By Isaac of Yukon.

There have been more Gettysburg battle field addresses made on moving day than people can remember. They have been just as short, just as unique and cover the ground just as completely as the Lincoln address did but they never were printed.

Perhaps it is best for the rising generation that the moving day addresses never got into print. True eloquence does not all the time come from the pulpit or platform; it can come from the kitchen while a joint of stove-pipe is being adjusted or when the clock and humble tack hammer loses its bearings and hits a thumb.

Happy is the man who has not much to move and thrice happy is he who can honestly take his worldly goods at one load. The smaller the load the sooner the agony will end.

Modern houses are so constructed as to save oratory. The large front window was designed to admit Duke of Wellington dispatches and railroad-keo sideboards. A wide front window is a good place to take a big Henry the Eighth coffin in and out when death calls.

Moving day tries a fellow's faith in himself, then, above all else, his muscles. A good household athlete is something of which any man should be proud. And the work is of such a character as to permit an athlete to ring in glory on the side.

Moving day is the substance of things hoped for; the evidence of things not seen. It rattles along like a meadow brook until the cooking stove drops on your foot and then the artillery of heaven awakens the neighbors with words which sound like cursing by sailors after a storm.

Usually on moving day men are known to calm their passions with a drink of whiskey who never drank before.

Astronomers, scientists, poets and traveling lecturers have said nothing on moving day. The nearest works on the subject are "Pilgrims Progress," "She Stoops to Conquer" and "The Boy's Silent Story." The spirit of moving day crops out a little in all of the three works but not enough to shut out any one who wishes to deliver a lecture "under the auspices" of an old society that needs aid.

Toll Dinkley says it makes a fellow keg-bucked to live in a dry town. Miss Fawn Lippincott will not attend any more evening functions "cause it makes her so late getting to bed after she does all the things Lillian Russell prescribes.

More Suits at $20

We just received word of more of these suits to arrive this week. A shipment that we had not expected, and word from the manufacturers that there would be some more to follow.

Instead of marking these at regular prices we are going to continue this sale during all this week. There will be from 40 to 50 additional suits; so that many women will have a chance to buy for $20.00 a suit worth $25 to $30. If you will remember we explained to you that the reason for these being priced at $20. The manufacturer from whom we bought our suits found that he had a number of pieces of goods with enough material in them for one, two or three suits. These materials he could not duplicate and he offered to make them up for us at a price so that we could offer them to you at $20. We agreed to take all of them and thought we had them but received word of more of these to come Monday or Tuesday.

These materials are such as are made up in suits that would retail at $30 and some as high as $35. We ask you to examine the material—see how the suits are made and how they fit and decide for yourself whether these are not a big bargain at this price. Plenty of navy blue, some few blacks and tan mixtures. If you have a suit want for Easter this is a chance for you to save $5 to $10 on your Easter suit.

Oliver plants Nos. 1, 2 and 3, are running six days per week and will continue to do so. We will employ a large number of coal miners and coke drawers in addition to those already at work for us. Persons desiring employment mining coal and drawing coke will find it to their interest to apply in person, to our several mine and yard foremen at said plants.

NEWS OF A DAY FROM SCOTSDALE

Large Reception Planned to Follow the Oberlin Glee Club.

COMING NEXT FRIDAY EVENING

Reception Will Be Held in the Tyrone Club Hall, Everson. Immediately After the Concert, Which Will Be The Big Event of the Year in Music.

Special to The Courier.
SCOTSDALE, Mar. 27.—The coming of the Oberlin College Glee Club to Geyer's opera house, Friday evening, under the auspices of the Scottsdale High School Athletic Association, will be the biggest event of a college nature ever held in Scottsdale. Audiences are being sent out today for the reception which will follow the concert and which will be given at Tyrone Club Hall, Everson. This is planned to be a college event and the ones interested are working on the decorations of the hall, which decorations will be of pennants, etc., the colors and pennant of Oberlin, of course, predominating. Moore's orchestra will furnish the music for the reception. On the committee in charge are the following: J. H. Smith, Thomas W. Dawson, William Morrison, W. S. Wiley, James Sherrill, Charles S. Hall, Clayton Perry, William Potter and Leslie Richey.

TOKEN OF RESPECT.
J. H. Smith, Walter, who has been employed as a foreman carpenter in Gary, Indiana, for the last year, arrived home on Sunday night, and will resume his contracting work here. Before leaving Gary Mr. Walter was presented with a fine gold watch, and cuff links by the men who had been employed under him, testifying to how well they liked him. One admirer also presented him with an old violin this owner not being able to play, but Rankin being able to handle same.

DATH OF MEETINGS.
The evangelistic meetings at the Christian church will begin April 21 instead of on the 14th as was previously announced. The W. L. Church, the evangelist, is doing good work in his meetings elsewhere, and the local pastor, Rev. O. J. Howarth, says this work has been greatly strengthened.

CHANGED THE TIME.
Although it was decided last week that the Personal Workers' meeting at the First Methodist Episcopal church would be changed to Friday evening this week, although the Oberlin Glee Club was to appear, the meeting was again put back to Tuesday evening. Therefore the meeting was held last evening and will not be held on Friday evening as announced last week. The regular Wednesday night prayer meeting is tonight.

KNOWLEDGE ABROAD.
There has been a far-sighted tale going abroad in Greensburg, that a "knocker" has been terrorizing Scottsdale by going to the homes of the residents and then running away. Scottsdale has as many knockers as anywhere else, likely and can probably muster as large an "Anvil Chorus," but the present situation seems even greater. Several boys have been building "hoax tanks" which explain the source of the mysterious rappings.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.
The following local real estate transfers were recorded at Greensburg yesterday: J. C. McGraw, lot in Scottsdale, to J. C. Wray for $1,000; J. C. Smith, lot in Scottsdale, to J. W. Scott, for $1,000; J. W. Scott, lot in Scottsdale, to J. C. Smith for $1,000; J. C. Smith, lot in Scottsdale, to J. C. Smith for $1,000.

Robert Gove agent of the Pennsylvania railroad at Everson, and secretary of the Sharon Borough Council, yesterday received the pin that he proudly wears showing that he is a veteran in the service of the Pennsylvania road. He has been with the road for 21 years and has been one of its steadiest and best employees. Mr. Gove is also secretary of the Everson Borough Council and has taken a keen interest in the public affairs of the little neighbor to Scottsdale.

SPRING OPENING.
Of fashionable millinery will be held at Mrs. William Smith's, corner Everson avenue and Mulberry street, Scottsdale, Friday and Saturday, March 29 and 30.

DOING REMODELING.
Harry Dorsey is having his barber shop on Broadway entirely remodeled and a tile floor laid in it. This will make one of the handsomest shops in town. The chairs have been moved to the second floor while the alterations are being made.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFER.
At Greensburg yesterday there was recorded two local real estate transfers. J. Elder, lot in East Huntingdon township to J. Elder for $1,000; March 14, 1912, and J. Elder, lot in Scottsdale to C. M. Fortney for $1,500, February 29, 1912.

MARRIAGE LICENSE.
A marriage license was granted at Greensburg yesterday to Henry Goshing of Owensville and Jennie Stillwagon of Acme.

TEMPERANCE MEETING.
Mrs. H. H. Newingham's class of young ladies in the Jacobs Creek Methodist Episcopal Sunday school, near town, has arranged for a temperance rally at that church on Saturday evening next at 7 o'clock. There will be a special song service, and a temperance program. It is expected that there will be addresses by the pastor, Rev. P. O. Wagner, and Rev. E. S. Phipps, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church of Scottsdale.

LICENSE COURT.
Representatives of the New Scottsdale House, Central Hotel, Hill House, Kromer House and Geyer House were in Greensburg yesterday attending license court. Judges L. W. Doty and A. D. McConnell heard the list of applicants and the list for the county was run through in 17 minutes. The court then adjourned until Saturday.

WAY FOR THE PIPE LINE.
Such action was justifiable at the time on the ground that the old supply was inadequate. But in view of the fact that water was supplied outside the borough the question naturally arises whether the supply for the borough was actually insufficient when water was being furnished in the township.

TRADE IS MUCH BETTER.
Increase in Prices Expected Many Orders for Engines, Cars and Rails.

NEW YORK, March 27.—Representatives of the leading steel producers of the country held a long conference yesterday, after which practically all present reported improved trade conditions and a general sentiment in favor of higher prices.

Many recent contracts have been made on a basis of $1.50 a ton higher than those prevailing in December. One of the prominent steel men said he would not be surprised to see a similar increase before the end of May. Several of the steel men believed the tide in business had turned and that a steadily increasing volume might be expected from now until after the fall election, and that 1912 will probably prove a boom year.

Many new orders were reported today for rails, new steel cars and locomotives.

DISTRIBUTING IMMIGRATION.
New York State Gets a Third of the Arrivals in Pennsylvania.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—New York State gets practically one-third of all the immigrant aliens admitted to the United States. For the year ending June 30, 1911, 378,544 aliens arrived of which 240,275 gave destinations in the State of New York. Pennsylvania had credit for 114,322 or somewhat more than one-eighth of the total. Illinois with 76,565 ranks third followed by Massachusetts with 70,511 persons. The two great loadstones are either the cities or the industries, in distributing the new arrivals from abroad.

SAME SUCCESS HERE AS IN EUROPE

Physicians Delighted by What New Tonic, Tona Vita, Has Done.

Tired out, run down half sick people are not so numerous as they were a year ago. "Tona Vita" the great modern tonic has proved as successful in the United States as in Europe, and many thousands of Americans have been built up and restored to health by this medicine.

The physicians who introduced "Tona Vita" in this country are enthusiastic over the remarkable success of the medicine, and those who have been restored to health are also glad to tell what their experience has been.

Mrs. Smith, of Rochester, N. Y., a trained nurse for sixteen years and a graduate of Bellevue Hospital, New York City, says:

"I have had no opportunity to take sufficient rest and during the past year this has told on me. My nerves began to trouble me. I have not been sleeping well and my appetite and digestion were not as they should be. I tired easily and did not have the vitality to withstand a hard day's work as formerly. This tonic 'Tona Vita' was recommended to me and I decided to give it a trial. I have been greatly benefited in health and strength by this medicine. I sincerely believe the tonic to be highly meritorious judging from my own experience."

Do you lack strength and vitality? Do you take cold easily and sleep poorly? Are you nervous and depressed? If so you are a sufferer from nervous debility and you should at once get a bottle of Tona Vita, and see how quickly it will build you up.

A. A. Clark is the agent for Tona Vita in Connellsville. Your money will be returned to you if you are dissatisfied with the tonic. The Approved Formula Co., Dayton, O.

that there will be addresses by the pastor, Rev. P. O. Wagner, and Rev. E. S. Phipps, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church of Scottsdale.

SOMERSET BURGESS VETOES COUNCIL WATER ORDINANCE.
Supply Not Sufficient, He Holds, to Furnish It to Outside Residents.

SOMERSET, March 26.—Burgess Frank M. Burgess has vetoed a resolution passed by the Town Council for the purpose of allowing property owners outside the borough to tap the water mains giving Council authority to fix the rate to be charged for such service.

The borough states in his veto that he believes the experimental work of the water works has not yet been sufficiently passed for the municipality to engage in the sale of water outside its original district.

Burgess, however, says that he would approve a proposition to sell water on a meter basis provided that outside should pay higher rates than residents of the borough, an amount of the lower taxes enjoyed by those living in the township.

Action of the borough affects more than a dozen parties who desire the convenience afforded by a public water supply. In addition the Gladesville Water Company, supplying probably thirty or forty families in the East End, has applied for service from the borough mains. The Gladesville concern is practically defunct, having experienced serious difficulties in securing an amount of capital needed to continue between the stockholders and patrons.

Unless the proposition is passed by a two-thirds vote over the Burgess veto the township application will have to "go dry," but it is expected that refusal of the water privilege will result in a strong sentiment among the nearby property owners for annexation to the borough, in which event they would be entitled to water service.

For many years some parties residing in the township along the outskirts of town have been allowed to tap the borough water mains paying a rate fifty per cent higher than that charged the townpeople. In each case, however, separate points were leased. It now appears that such permits to be legal should be in the form of resolutions by Council subject to the approval of the burgess, and the legality of former grants may be investigated.

The borough's right of eminent domain is also involved in furnishing water outside the borough limits. For instance, in laying a new line to the reservoir from the North Somerset plant last summer the municipal authorities were obliged to invoke their right of condemnation of property through which the right-of-way was secured.

NEWS OF THE DAY IN MT. PLEASANT

Happenings of Interest in the Busy Town Among the Hills.

WHAT THE PEOPLE ARE DOING

Infant Daughter of Partittown Resident Is Called by Death—Well Known Young Lady to Wed Steubenville Man This Summer—Notes.

MT. PLEASANT, March 27.—Viola Sheets, aged 2 years, daughter of David Sheets, is dead at her Partittown home. The infant was taken to the hospital at Steubenville yesterday and died at the hospital.

Mrs. Lydia Pyle, aged 81, is dead at her home. Interment will be made in the Brown cemetery tomorrow.

Buy your shoe and fresh caught, cleaned fish at Mrs. Keller's on the Hill Thursday.

The regular W. C. T. U. meeting will be held next Tuesday evening, April 2, at the home of Mrs. O. G. Weimer.

Miss Elizabeth Broadhead, who is home from Forest Glen, Md., and Miss Charlotte Fuge are making arrangements to conduct kindergarten here this summer.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Smith have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Marie Smith, to John Henry Schwab of Steubenville, O. The engagement will terminate in an early summer wedding.

Miss Emma Sheerick has invitations out for a luncheon to be held at the Rutledge, Pittsburgh, next Saturday. Miss Anna Stotter assisted by Misses Richard, Eunice, Nedrow and Jennie Russell entertained the members of the Mt. Pleasant Glee Club at her Eagle street home last evening.

Madam Burkhardt, of the National W. C. T. U. lecture, will lecture in the Re-Union Presbyterian church on April 15th. A silver offering will be taken. Madam Burkhardt is a native of Assyria.

The ladies of the Hospital Aid met at the hospital last evening, there being no quorum the business had to be dispensed with. Arrangements were talked over for the nurses' graduating exercises.

Miss Martha Warden will appoint committees who will report and arrangements be completed at the next meeting to be held April 22. In the graduating class will be Pearl Chamberlain, Martha Anderson, Beatrice Walker, Jeannette Casey, Ruth Kassen and Mary Jordan.

J. S. Overholt, of the Latta and Overholt law firm, will visit his home here after a week's absence.

Mrs. Crawford of Greensburg was the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Wm. Hiltman of Eagle street yesterday.

Mrs. James Trainer returned to her home yesterday after a week's visit paid her sister, Mrs. Robert Hood.

Miss Ray Gleason, a graduate nurse from McKeesport, is the guest of Miss Sarah Hood.

CASCARETS INSURE INSIDE CLEANLINESS

The Millions of Cascarets Users Never Have Headache, Constipation, Bloating or Sick Headache.

It is more necessary that you keep your bowels, liver and stomach clean, pure and fresh than it is to keep the newness and fragrance of a large city free from obstruction.

Are you keeping clean inside with Cascarets—or merely forcing a purgative every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system the decomposed waste matter and poison in the liver and bowels.

No odds how badly and upset you feel, a Cascarets tonight will straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from your druggist will keep your entire family feeling good for months. Don't forget the child, the delicate, the invalids need a good, gentle cleansing, too.

AVAILABLE COAL SUPPLY

West Reports a Short Market and Tendency to Rise Sharply.

CHICAGO, March 23.—Black Diamond says the coal supply available before April 1 is about cleaned up here and if the demand is not satisfied the market would show runaway tendencies with prices $1 or more higher.

The price is now mighty stiff with $2 paid for any kind of coal, and some grades bringing 10 to 25 cents premium, making mine prices range from $2 to $2.25 f. o. b. for steam lump and $2.10 to $2.40 for screening and domestic lump. Demand is mostly for small lots with few buying orders during the past week, indicating storage demand reasonably supplied. The Kentucky coal supply much above expectations and growing belief Western mines won't close down for any long period.

Labor situation was considerably clarified within the week, although the mine workers are still killing time in Cleveland, at least did in Indianapolis and Chicago, evidently to see how far they can go with safety to themselves, which means without governmental intervention.

Careful personal observation at the Cleveland conference leads definitely to the conclusion that the miners have no intention to involve all the mines in a strike. They are also waiting the outcome of the English situation. If the foreign strike continues, the American miners will likely confine the strike to the anthracite districts, causing public uprising if international shortage is very acute. Otherwise the miners might also assault Western Pennsylvania.

KOBACKER'S SPRING OPENING ATTRACTS CROWDS ALL DAY

Store Brightly Decorated and Latest Styles are Placed on Display.

Handsomely decorated display windows and an elaborate and exclusive showing of ladies and children's wear, were marked features of the annual spring opening of the firm of H. Kobacker & Sons last evening and last evening. From early in the morning until after 10 o'clock last night all roads led to the popular store. The crowd was the largest in the history of the store and never were the decorations as elaborate and attractive. All the departments were in gala attire and beautiful colors were carried out to produce a handsome effect. The beauty of the display windows attracted the attention of all who passed by. A distinctive color scheme was artistically carried out in each window.

After viewing the beauty of the windows all were interested in the display in the interior of the store. Never were the different departments as well stocked with spring and summer goods as they are at the present, and the manner in which the articles were displayed in the different departments, was very attractive. On entering the store one was confronted by a neat and attractive display of ladies' neckwear, including costly jewelry and other accessories so necessary to millinery's wardrobe.

After visiting the departments on the first floor the crowd wended its way to the second floor where ladies' suits and millinery were shown. Miss Julia Brown is trimmer and designer in the millinery department, and some handsome and exclusive creations in advanced spring and summer models were shown.

The department displayed artistically tailored suits, suits for more dressy occasions, evening dresses of chiffon over mesaline, and other styles. The large display window on the second floor was devoted to a showing of evening dresses and millinery. The decorations were American beauty scenes and millinery. Lingerie, silk and chiffon waists were also exhibited. The long coat suitable for spring and summer had not been overlooked.

Leading to the shoe department was a large display of covered with Southern millinery. Music was furnished throughout the evening by Kofsky's orchestra and small pictures were given as souvenirs.

Normalville.

NORMALVILLE, March 25.—Dana and DeWitt have bought the Barrett lumber shed to be the best in the mountains.

The reservoir is pronounced safe. Cleveland Grinn will move to Normalville and work on the B. & O. railroad.

Dennis Raymond has sold his farm to Walker Brothers.

Mrs. are being caught in the reservoir at the rate of 100 and 200 pounds a day.

Have You Lost Anything?

THE BEST PROOF.

Connellsville Citizens Cannot Doubt It.

Doan's Kidney Pills were used—they cured.

The story was told to Connellsville residents.

Time has strengthened the evidence.

Has proven the cure permanent.

The testimony is home testimony.

The proof convincing.

It can be investigated by Connellsville residents.

Mrs. Lawrence Francis, 411 Tenth street, Connellsville, Pa., says: Doan's Kidney Pills cured me of a severe attack of kidney trouble about five years ago and I have had no return attack. This remedy has also been used by other members of our family with the most satisfactory results.

On October 12, 1909, Mrs. Francis was again interviewed and added the following to her former statement:

"My former statement still holds good. The relief I obtained from Doan's Kidney Pills was permanent."

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no others.

PASS UP UNIONTOWN.

Reported Electric Show Will Not Go to County Seat.

The electric show opened at Greensburg Monday with 1,500 people in attendance. By far the most interesting feature of the show is the work of B. E. Gekko of the West Point here.

The object of the Greensburg's admiration is a complete coal mine and coke ovens in full blast, everything being run by electricity. Electricity runs the fan, the laries, and operates the coke ovens. The show will be held all this week. Those in charge of the show are all from offices here.

It was stated this morning that the show would probably pass up Uniontown. The basketball directors want too much money for the hall.

LOCAL BALL PLAYERS TO BE GIVEN TRIALS

Connellsville Boys Will Have Thorough Tryouts in O. & P. League.

Connellsville will not only be on the baseball map this year but many of her native sons will also have on professional diamonds. While Connellsville has always had several representatives in the professional ranks, not until this year have so many declared their intention of trying out.

First on the list will be Lawrence Francis and Tom Slick, both former color players. Slick has been wintering in Connellsville since 1909. Francis will report this year to the Three-Rye League. He has already signed his contract. Tom Slick as yet has to sign his contract with the London club of the Canadian league. He objects to a cut in salary. Connellsville fans agree that he will look good in a Coker uniform.

Getzie, the peppery third baseman of the Leechburg Champions of the Tri-State League will be a candidate for honors on Manager Wilson's team. He tried out with East Liverpool last season. Lindsay McFarland of Vanhook, Pa., has already signed a contract to play with Hugh Shannon's team in the O. & P. league. He will try for third base. He will report with the first squad of players. He has played independent ball in the Coker region for a number of years. Clarence McFarland of Vanhook has written to Manager List of the New Castle team asking for a tryout. He has played independent ball in the Young valley for some time. He pitched on the High School team last year. Friends of "Bill" Shoenor are urging him to secure a tryout with some of the teams.

Notes.

A personal canvass, an automobile contest, a Great Eastern Carnival and a lot of other things are four things that are slated to put the Johnsons Tri-State League baseball club on its feet.

That the majority of players in the O. & P. league this year will be college men is evident by the great number of educational stars now being signed up. Connellsville will have her quota. Sharon will probably head the list in number of college men. Manager Paige has of the men already signed an more than half are from the ranks of the high browns. Page has signed up Fletcher McCarthy who was with the Akron O. & P. league in 1910.

President Scheffer of the Eastern league has issued a manifesto to the effect that he will have the best player that takes part in a basketball game against Mayham with the Champion Johnson team. Mayham played with Trenton last year and jumped his contract. He says that his players cannot play against Mayham in the world's series. All of which goes to show that an agreement between the two leagues to disallow contract jumping would necessarily solve the problem.

The pennant race in the Eastern league is still in doubt. The race will probably be decided at the game between the two leaders, Trenton and Joppatowne, tonight. If Jasper wins, the Eastern league pennant is surely theirs.

If Trenton wins from Jasper, no matter if they do lose to Camden, they would still have a chance to tie up the race by beating De Nor in the final game.

JASPER LEAD IN EASTERN OVER TRENTON.

Maybe It Won't Be Harry Hough After All to Lead the Champions.

Jasper leads the Eastern League race by a half game. Trenton having reduced the lead Saturday night with a victory over Reading. According to the dope from Trenton, Hough will depend largely upon his own and Getzinger's work, both formerly Central league. Getzinger's center work, it is thought, will be a large factor for Johnsons to overcome. If Bill Keenan can take care of Getzinger the series will not be in doubt.

At that none of the basketball experts are figuring that Trenton has much of a looking. The team play of the two teams will be widely different. Trenton's play revolves about Getzinger in the Eastern league they call it "Trenton's wonderful center play. Johnsons builds its scoring machine around the wonderful work of Wohlfarth, the speedy guard. The Joppatowne has a "snack-up" play with Kinkadee doing the scoring. But Kinkadee usually acts as the watchdog of the opponent's basket.

The GLOW of the RUBIES

By Jove, so you could! And the thing seemed nearly as big as a rat. I was making for the end of the leg. I climbed upon a chair.

"Get a chair," I exclaimed, "and smash the thing as it comes out!" Jenkins rushed out and returned with a brassie.

"Careful now," I warned from the chair. "Don't go and hit the dashed thing before it gets out, and make a devil of a mess on the silk! There it is—it's out! No, no—not yet! Wait, until it gets its whole body out! There now; he's drawing out his last beastly leg. Now—now let drive!"

And he did, and seemed to hit the thing squarely.

I knee on the chair and craned over, while Jenkins still held the stick tightly at the point where the thing had struck.

"Get him?" I queried. "Where is it?"

"That's it, sir," said Jenkins in an odd voice. "It ain't here."

"Why, dash it, I saw you strike the beast, right where you're holding that club."

"Mr. Lightnut, sir—Jenkins spoke a little huskily and glanced around at me queerly—"will you look under the end of this stick and see if you see what I see?"

I climbed down and examined cautiously.

"Why, by Jove, it's the little spider!" I exclaimed, surprised.

"Exactly, sir; what's left?" Jenkins took a deep breath.

"Thank you, sir—it's a great relief," he sighed.

"Eh?"

"I mean, sir, I'm glad I ain't the only one who thought he saw that other. It's some comfort."

Jenkins spoke gloomily.

"Thought you saw?" I repeated.

But Jenkins only shook his head as he gathered up the remains of the spider and consigned them to a cuspidor.

"You mean—say, what the devil do you mean?" I asked sharply.

Jenkins straightened with air respectful but solemn.

"Mr. Lightnut, sir," he began gravely, "there's a party lectures on the street corner every night at nine on the fearful consequences of the drink habit, and passes around blank pledges to be signed. I'm going to get one first chance; and if you will accept it, sir—meaning no offense—" would be proud to get you one, too."

I stared at him again.

"Oh, I say, now," I murmured faintly, "you don't think it was that, do you?"

Jenkins' face was eloquent enough.

"I'm through, sir," he said sadly. "When it comes to seeing things like that—" He lifted his eyes. "No more for me, sir; my belief is, it's a warning—yes, sir; that's what, a warning."

I collapsed into a chair.

"By Jove, Jenkins!" I said, "trying to go a feeble simile. I never felt so fit for a corking stiff highball in my life—never!"

I took a screw on my glass and studied him curiously.

"And I say, you know—better take one yourself!" I added.

CHAPTER III.

I Don the Pajamas.

"By Jove, Jenkins, they fit like a dream!"

I twisted before the glass and surveyed the pajamas with great satisfaction. They looked jolly right from every point. Moreover, with all their easy looseness, there was not an inch too much. They had a comfortable, personal feel.

"Lucky thing they weren't made originally for some whale like Jack Billings—eh, Jenkins?" I commented musingly.

Behind his hand Jenkins indulged in what he vulgarly known as a snicker.

"Mr. Billings, sir, he couldn't get one shoulder in 'em, much less a—ah—leg," he chuckled. "They'd be in ribbons, sir!"

I yawned sleepily, and Jenkins instantly sobered to attention. He held his finger over the light switch as I punched a pillow and rolled over on the mattress.

"All right," I said, "push the jolly thing out." And with a click darkness fell about me.

"Good night, sir," came Jenkins' voice softly.

"Night," I murmured faintly, and I was off.

Sometime, hours later, I awoke, and with a devilish yearning for a smoke. It often takes me that way in the night.

I climbed out in the blackness and found my way into the other room. I remembered exactly where I had dropped my cigarette case when we were fooling with the pajamas by the table, and I found it without difficulty.

In the act of stooping for it, my hand clutched the edge of the tub and I felt a spot yield under the pressure of my thumb. It was the button controlling the bell to Jenkins' room.

"Lucky thing he sleeps like a jolly porpoise," I reflected.

I pushed a wicker arm-chair into the moonlight and breeze by a window, and pulling a flame to a cigarette, leaned back, feeling jolly comfy. For the breeze was rippling and delicious, and the delicate silk of the pajamas flowed in little wavelets all the way from my heels to my neck.

I was just about dropping off, when I heard some one hurrying along the private hall leading from the back.

Jenkins himself popped into the room. "Did you ring, sir?" he inquired, and advanced quickly.

And then, before I could think about it to reply, he halted suddenly, almost pitching forward. Then, with a kind of wheezy howl, he sprang to the wall.

Next instant, I was blinking under the dazzling electric light.

"Here, I say! Shut off that light!" I remonstrated, half blinded.

I heard a swift rush across the rug, and the next thing I knew I was roughly jerked from out my chair; strong fingers clutched my throat, and I found myself glaring into a frightened but resolute face.

"Jen-Jenkins!" I tried to gasp, but only a gurgle came.

I was so taken unawares, I knew it must be some dashed dream. Perhaps another minute, and I would wake up. But he gripped me tighter and shook me like a rag.

"Say, who are you?" he hissed. "How did you get in here?"

And then, of course, I knew that he was crazy. Whether he was crazy in a dream or crazy with me awake, I couldn't guess.

It made very little difference, anyhow, for I knew that in another minute I should be either dream dead or real dead; and dash me if I could see any odds worth tussling for in either, you know.

But I don't belong to the athletic club quite for nothing, and have managed to pick up a few tricks, you know. So with the decision to chuck the dream theory, I shot my leg forward with a mix-up and twist that made Jenkins loosen his clutch and stagger backward.

He Sprang to the Wall.

"What's the matter with you?" I gasped, advancing toward him. "Are you trying to murder me?" But I was so hoarse, the only word that came out plainly was "murder."

Jenkins uttered a howl. "Help, Mr. Lightnut! Murder!"

"You old fool!" I cried, exasperated. "Come here!"

He was coming. He seized a light chair and swung it behind his head. Then he rushed me with a shout.

"Oh, Mr. Lightnut!"

"Come clear off his nut!" was my thought. As he swung the chair I ducked low, and man and chair went crashing to the floor. But he was up again in a jiffy and dancing at me.

"Mr. Lightnut, sir, why don't you help me?"

"Help you—you jolly idiot?" I muttered indignantly. Then my voice raised: "I've a mind to kill you!"

With a yell, he made a kangaroo jump and swung at me again.

"He says he's going to kill me, Mr. Lightnut!" he panted as I dodged again.

"Help me—wake up, sir!"

Wake up? Wake up, indeed, when I had never been so devilish wide awake in all my life! I was sure now about that. I moved toward him cautiously.

"Stop your row!" I cried angrily; "you'll have somebody in. Think I want the police up here?"

With a glare at me, Jenkins darted past me to the bedroom I had just left. Its light switch clicked, and then back through the brightened doorway he sprang and dashed for a wall cabinet at the side. He began tugging at its little drawer, and suddenly I remembered the revolver there, an old forty-five from a friend in Denver—and landed!

My spring to intercept him was quick, but not quick enough! Half-way to him I pulled up under the compelling argument of the long blue barrel pointed at my head.

"Here! Look out, you fool—it's loaded!" I warned, backing away to the window.

Jenkins advanced. "What have you done with him?" he panted hoarsely. "Where is he?"

"Where's who?" I asked savagely, for I was getting devilish tired of it all. But for the publicity, I should have yelled from the window.

"Where's Mr. Lightnut?" he demanded.

"Oh, he's all right." I decided to adopt that soothing tone that I had read somewhere was the proper paper with lunatics.

"Where?" Jenkins insisted, pushing nearer.

And dashed if I knew what to answer; for, if I made a mistake, it might be serious, by Jove! For his some jocular reply would be safest—might divert his attention, you know.

The open window gave me an idea. "Why, do you know," I said pleasantly, "I just chucked him down into the street."

It sounded like a cannon cracker, that gun! The shower of splintered glass from the picture between the windows barely missed me. But I never waited a second—for this last devilish stray was too much, don't you know, and something had to be done.

I leaped for the weapon as it struck the hardwood floor between us, jerked from Jenkins' hand by the unfamiliar upward kick. Another instant and I was poking the muzzle into his side.

"I've just had enough of this, you fool!" I cried impatiently. "Here, take a good look at me! I pushed my face closer. 'Look at me, I tell you!'"

By Jove, he shuddered! His eyes, wide distended with terror, rolled to the ceiling.

"I can't," he whispered. "I just can't—anything but that! Only, please—please don't kill me, too."

"Kill you?" I said, frowning sternly as he gave a furtive glance. "I certainly will, if you don't take a good look at me!"

He gave a sort of despairing sigh and closed his eyes so tightly, the lashes disappeared. "All right, then," he said sulkily; "you may kill me!"

The way with these lunatics, I thought. Next thing, he would be begging and insisting that I kill him. I motioned to the door of my guest-room and gave him a push.

"In there," I said, "and keep perfectly quiet."

And as he shot inside, I closed the door and locked it. I just had to take the chance of his hurting himself against the walls and furniture; I didn't believe he was so crazy he would undertake the almighty leap to the ground. Listening, I heard something like a sob. Then I caught my name.

"Poor Mr. Lightnut," came chokingly; "the kindest, gentlest master!" And then more sobs and gulps.

By Jove, under his insane delusion, the poor beggar was grieving for me; not thinking of himself at all, you know, or that my eyes grow a bit moist, somehow, and all at once my heart went heavy. Thought how long poor old Jenkins had been with me—ever since I was out of college, you know—five years—and remembered how devilish faithful and attached he had always been. Poor old Jenke! I was awful his going off this way! I recalled how he had taken to seeing things, earlier in the evening, and had made me see them, too, dash it! One thing I determined: whatever had to be done with him, he should have the finest of attention.

I knew that I ought to telephone to somebody or something, but dashed if I had any idea who or where. Oddly enough, not a soul seemed to have been roused by the pistol shot, but I saw by the little clock that it was close to three—the hour in a bachelor apartment house when everybody is asleep, if they're going to sleep at all.

I decided that the best thing to do first was to get into some clothes. And with this thought I was turning away, when it occurred to me to make an effort to see if poor Jenkins seemed more rational now or had gone to sleep.

I tapped upon the door. "Are you asleep?" I asked softly.

A howl of positive terror came back.

"I'm a-keeping quiet," he cried, "but don't let me hear your voice again, or I'll jump right out of the window."

I shook my head sadly and tiptoed into my room, where I slipped hurriedly out of the pajamas and into some clothes; then back I went to the telephone. It was on my little writing-desk close to the door continuing Jenkins.

I lifted the receiver with a sigh.

"Hello, central," I began, responding to the operator. "I say, will you give me 'information'?"

A loud shout suddenly sounded from behind the closed door, and there came a frantic double-pounding of fists.

"Mr. Lightnut—Mr. Lightnut!" screamed Jenkins. "Oh, Mr. Lightnut, you're back—you're alive—I can hear your voice! This is Jenkins, Mr. Lightnut; yes, sir, Jenkins. They've got me locked in!"

I clapped the receiver on the hook and sprang to the door, unlocking it. Jenkins almost tumbled into my arms.

By Jove, for a second I hung in the wind, he acted so crazy still; at least, it seemed so just at first. The fellow threw his arm about my neck and laughed—laughed and cried, dashed it—and just wringing my hands and carrying on—Oh, awful! And even when I got him into a chair, he just sat there laughing and crying like a jolly old silly, patting my hand, you know, and wiping his eyes, what time they were not devouring me.

"Has he gone, sir?" he gasped huskily. "Did he jump from the window?" But I waved all questions aside.

"After you've had some sleep," I insisted. "Then I'll tell you the whole jolly story." And I just got him to his room myself, despite his distress and protests over my attention.

"Thank you, sir, and good night," he said as I left him. And he murmured placidly, "I guess we're all right now."

But I was not so sure as to him, when I viewed the broken chair and scattered fragments of glass—ominous reminders of the scene through which I had passed. And so, though I threw the pistol on top of a bookcase, I spent the rest of the night upon the soft cushions of my big divan.

LAKE ORE PRICES REDUCED: RAILROADS PLACING ORDERS

Steel Mills Are Making Determined Stand For More Reasonable Rates.

NEW YORK, March 25.—The iron industry was surprised last week by the announcement of heavy transactions in Lake ore for the 1912-1913 season, at a reduction of 65¢ to 75¢ per ton from the previous season. The nine operators, however, will receive some benefit from reduced rail freight rates, smaller dock unloading charges and lower lake charges. Eighteen million tons of last year's ore supply are still unshipped. Temperamentary prices reflect the unsettled conditions in the coal and coke field and sales aggregated 125,000 tons at slightly higher prices.

The railroads placed larger orders for motive power, and a shipment of equipment purchases was light. Contracts included 164 locomotives, 4,359 cars, 6,000 tons of bridge work and only 6,000 tons rails.

The steel mills made a determined stand for more remunerative prices for steel bars, plates and shapes. The Republic company, following the lead of the other mills in an advance of 31¢ per ton. The Lorain Steel Company advanced light section rails 11.50¢ to 12¢ per ton and the American Sheet & Tin Plate Company is asking $2 per ton more for galvanized sheets.

Car shops ordered 30,000 tons of steel plates and shapes. Contracts were also placed for about 10,000 tons of marine plates for coast and lake boats.

A MIGHTY REMEDY

Cures Backache, Stomachic, and All Kidney, Liver and Bladder Disorders, or Money Back.

Yes, money back; that's the offer that Graham & Company, Connellsville, and S. A. Lowe & Company, Scotland, the agents, make if Thompson's Backache Remedy fails to cure any of the above named diseases.

And when you stop to think, that's a wonderfully generous offer from the viewpoint of the afflicted, the sick and the suffering.

So if you are ill, have the blues, have lost ambition, have backache or pain in your side, if your urine is high colored, and your eyes dull and complexion sallow, the chances are that your kidneys are weak and clogged up, and that your blood is full of impurities.

So why wait, when Thompson's Backache Remedy is guaranteed to restore your health. Get a bottle today at Graham & Company's drug store, Connellsville, and S. A. Lowe & Company's drug store, Scotland. There are two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00.

Five years ago, Charles Schultz, of Dunkirk, N. Y., was so weak and run down that he decided to give up his business. He took Thompson's Backache Remedy, and in a few months he regained his health, gained 55 pounds in weight. Today he writes: "I have been in perfect health ever since I wrote you five years ago." AT THE THEATRE.

THE SOISSON.

"THE NEWLYWEDS."

"The Newlyweds and Their Baby," a musical comedy built around a group of cartoons and characters familiar to many newspaper readers, will come to the Soisson theatre Wednesday, April 3.

This production serves once more to call attention to the achievements of artist George McManus, creator of the "Newlyweds," and his pictures are as famous as those of Buster Brown, and an army of other mischievous youngsters. The chief figures in the play that has been made around these pictures are Mrs. and Mrs. Newlywed, Napoleon Newlywed, the baby, Major Knott Much, and the Big Black Bear.

The story is so fantastic as to be almost farcical, but the complications are said to be so numerous and novel that an extraordinary amount of the best kind results. It appears that one Professor Nichol, has a kind of museum in which he exhibits a midget, Major Knott Much. This attraction, wearying of routine duties, runs away from the museum, taking with him the Big Black Bear which is his constant companion. Professor Nichol, facing certain ruin if he cannot find another attraction, to take the place of Major Knott Much, learns that the son of Mr. and Mrs. Newlywed looks precisely like his runaway midget. He succeeds in kidnapping the baby, aided thereto by the unconscious Mrs. Newlywed, and for a time there is a flurry of excitement over the baby and the efforts to recover him. Every one suspects everyone else of having a hand in the kidnapping, and matters right only after the most hopeless misunderstandings are brought about.

The company which has been engaged to illustrate this lively story on the stage includes many familiar and popular performers. Master Earl Knapp, a comedian of the Lilliputian class, will appear as the Baby and Major Knott Much, and his chief assistants will be Daniel F. Murphy, Charles A. Morgan, John Dyer, Olga Von Halzfeldt, Culla Sylvester, Milton Dawson, L. W. Carter, Mabelle Janet, Gust Steinhil, and a beauty chorus of more than 50 that can sing and dance.

QUIT CALOMEL!

A Safe Vegetable Substitute for Olive Tablets For the Liver.

Thousands Are Turning From This Dangerous Drug.

Dr. F. M. Edwards, a prominent physician of Portsmouth, Ohio, has discovered a new laxative and liver-toner in a combination of vegetable materials, mixed with olive oil, which is in effect almost exactly like the old and untrustworthy calomel, except that there are none of the bad after-effects of calomel.

Dr. Edwards has long been a foe of calomel, though he recognized its value along with its dangers.

His distrust of the uncertain drug eventually started him years ago towards experiments with the view of discovering a substitute, and he is today in possession of the long-sought-for combination, which is in the shape of a little sugar-coated, olive-oil-colored tablet.

The results of fifteen years' experience and practice are embodied in these marvelous little tablets.

They are called Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, and their effect on the liver has been the means of relief to many of Dr. Edwards' regular patients, as well as to thousands of others who have suffered and were afraid of calomel.

They are gentle in their action, yet always effective. They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of harmful impurities.

"Every Little Olive Tablet has a movement all its own."

The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, Ohio. Dr. F. M. Edwards, President.

CHAIRMAN HAY ANXIOUS TO DO STREET PAVING

Would Have Baldwin Avenue and Arch Street Improved This Summer.

After a lull of two years Connellsville is again to see some of the worst streets paved this spring and summer. Chairman S. P. Hay of the Street Committee has the matter all but recommended to Council. It is probable that the other members of the Street Committee Chairman Hay will call a meeting tomorrow night.

Two of the streets most in need of paving will be taken up at the meeting. Baldwin avenue and Arch street from Church place to Green street. After the recommendation of these streets is disposed of paving on other streets will be taken up. At the Council meeting last week a number of requests were made for paving.

The property owners on Baldwin avenue have signified their willingness to stand the paving expenses. The street committee wants the Library to stand at least a portion of its expense. A view of the alley in the rear of Hill street will be made this week.

Charles F. Hood's Platform; Is Candidate for Congress

Political Advertisement.

In coming before the voters of the Twenty-third Congressional district as a candidate for Congress, it seems to me that a fair expression as to my attitude on the public questions of the day should be clearly outlined and expressed.

It is a fact easily discernable to every intelligent mind, that we all live by doing for others that which others cannot or will not do for themselves—clearly inter-dependent, therefore, why should we not go forward together to obtain that which is so necessary and desirable to all.

I am firmly committed to progressive legislation to be procured by orderly and logical methods, free from radicalism and possible only to independent thought and action.

Of the many important ideas that have been advanced during the past few years, probably the most important since the regulation of the railroads of the country has become an accomplished fact, are:

First.—A currency system which will permit of greater flexibility in circulation at times of money stringency. We have just recently passed a crisis in financial affairs where the situation was remedied, not saved, by the issuance of clearing house certificates based on the credit of banks and useful only for local circulation when it would have been just as easy to issue additional bank notes had the National Government provided authority and method for securing such circulation by the deposit of collateral of high character which the banks hold in abundance. Such currency could be readily, even automatically, reduced after the necessities of the situation had been met. Such financial matters could easily be avoided, and the distress occasioned thereby to both business men and wage earners positively averted.

Second.—It is high time that the tariff question should be eliminated as a political pawn to be played over for party advantage to the serious detriment of the people. It is simply a matter of common sense business. It is the object of the tariff to first protect our producers against the unfair labor of foreign lands which is of paramount importance to home labor, and second to provide necessary revenue to run the government. There is no good reason why the work of determining just how much it is necessary to collect for such purposes on every article of import subject to tariff cannot be done by a body of trained experts paid by the government for such service, and the finding of such body of experts or commission should be accepted by Congress instead of using or misusing such information for political campaign purposes. It is quite true that the National House of Representatives, under our Constitution, is the only authorized instrument for the origination of revenue producing measures, but there is nothing to prevent this same body from clothing a commission with power to determine the facts and to bind itself to accept them. Besides the Constitution has been and can again be amended by the people. They created it—Why not?

There is constant turmoil on this important subject and it is no wonder business lags and the wage earner suffers.

Third.—The amendment and strengthening of the present anti-trust laws are an immediate necessity. The law should be made clear in every particular. So clear that there can be no doubt in the mind of any man as to just what it means and it would then be unnecessary to invoke our Supreme Court in case after case, long drawn out and disastrous to business of all sorts. Business men cannot reasonably be expected to properly construe a law which does not clearly specify the rules of conduct, and we will undoubtedly be further distressed until such legislation is accomplished.

Fourth.—All corporate business in concern of inter-state character should be licensed under legislation creating a bureau for such purpose, prescribing the method of conducting such business, giving full publicity to their affairs and governing particularly by their capitalization. Wage earners are growing weary of being compelled to each dividends on capitalization that is half water.

There are many other matters of more or less importance to the people which will require intelligent progressive legislation but limited space forbids their discussion here, nor will it permit of detailed treatment of those mentioned above, but to all of them I hereby pledge myself in case of election to give faithful and earnest aid and also hold myself ready to publicly discuss them with any one caring to do so. It is on this platform I earnestly ask your support. Nomination subject to Republican primary election to be held April 3, 1912.

FUEL ECONOMY

Northern Pacific Expert Illustrates Savings in Fuel.

George T. Conley of St. Paul, special instructor of the mechanical department of the Northern Pacific Railway Company, who is in the Northwest to deliver a series of illustrated lectures to firemen, engineers and others in the employ of the road with a view to greater economy in the use of fuel, said in the course of an interview at Spokane, Wash., that 2,566,155 tons of coal was used for 15,810,264 locomotive miles operated in 1911. The cost of the fuel alone was $3,000,000. Continuing, he said: "If the company could have saved one shovelful of coal per locomotive mile it would have made a difference of $759,000 on the coal bill in 1911, while a shovelful saved from each ton would have meant a saving of $80,000. This can be accomplished by light and more frequent firing, thus using all the properties for heat in the coal. The average locomotive consumes a gallon of water to the pound making it into steam to furnish power. "The hydro-carbon gases represent from 35 to 50 per cent of the heat values of coal and the black smoke issuing from the funnels of the engines represents the unburned carbon of the gases and represents a loss of 14,500 British thermal units to the pound.

"We show in our demonstrations to the firemen and engineers that when oxygen is admitted in its proper proportions the fuel elements will combine and the smoke will be colorless. This shows that when there is a quantity of black smoke improper combustion takes place, indicating an over-supply of coal in the firebox.

"The locomotive companies are drafting out engines according to specifications, and we show the men that they are limited to a certain amount of air and where they add coal beyond a certain limit they produce these hydro-carbon gases, which

EFFICIENCY TESTS

Shop P. R. R. Employees Are 99.7% Perfect.

Over 500,000 efficiency tests were made in 1911 by the Pennsylvania railroad, and the reports—made public today—show that the employees have a record of 99.7% perfect. Efficiency tests—at one time called surprise tests—were conducted on the Pennsylvania railroad cover a wide range of subjects, such as "conformity to speed regulations," "observance of all kinds of signals," "leaving or arriving ahead of time," "car doors not properly closed," and many others of a similar nature.

Tests are conducted by division officials of the railroad, who at unusual times and places, check up employees in their work, to see that all rules and regulations are obeyed. Failure to observe any of the rules regarding the use of signals is immediately reported and the offender is called before the proper official for discipline.

In 1911 the Pennsylvania railroad made exactly 543,572 efficiency tests and 99.7% recorded perfect. In other words, only three-tenths of one per cent of these tests failed to find employees obeying the spirit and letter of the company's rules. In a very large majority of this three-tenths of one per cent, the observance rules was partial, but any slight infraction was counted against the employee's record.

Relieves Backache Instantly

Sloan's Liniment is a great remedy for backache. It penetrates and relieves the pain instantly—no rubbing necessary—just lay it on lightly.

Here's Proof.

"I had my back hurt in the 'Great War' and in San Francisco two years ago I was hit by a street car in the same place. I tried all kinds of drugs without success. Two weeks ago I saw your liniment in a drug store and got a bottle so I tried it. The first application caused instant relief, and now except for a little stiffness, I am almost well."

ECZEMA BROKE OUT ON FACE AND BODY

When Two Months Old, She Scratched, as It Itched. Did Not Sleep for More than a Week. Was in a Terrible Condition.

Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment and in Two Weeks She Was Well.

"When my baby was two months old, she had eczema and rash very badly. I noticed that her face and body broke out very suddenly, thick and red as a coal of fire. I did not know what to do. The doctor ordered castor oil and powders, but they did no good. She would scratch, and I itched, and she cried, and did not sleep for more than a week. One day I saw in a local paper the advertisement of the Cuticura Soap and Ointment, so I got them and tried them at once. My baby's face was so red and sore. "When I first used the Cuticura Soap and Ointment, I could see a difference. In color it was better. I continued with them. My baby was in a terrible condition. I used the Cuticura Soap and Ointment four times a day, and in two weeks she was quite well. The Cuticura Remedies tried her skin perfectly, and her skin is now pretty and fine through using them. I also tell my friends how the Cuticura Soap and Ointment cured my baby of eczema and rash. (Signed) Mrs. Drew, 210 W. 18th St., New York City, Aug. 26, 1910.

For more than a generation, Cuticura Soap and Ointment have afforded the most present, sweetest and most economical treatment for afflictions of the skin that torture, disfigure, itch, burn, crust, scab and destroy sleep. A cure of Cuticura Soap (20c) and Cuticura Ointment (50c) are all that is sufficient. Sold throughout the world. Send to Potter Drug & Chem.
